

Dear Friends,

After a wonderful summer it is time to bid it farewell. The Bodenseeheim was able to accommodate and cherish many ardent students, and facilitate meetings and events.

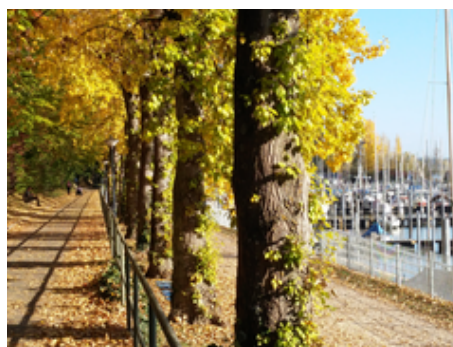

There were seminars for music lovers; the letters from the New Testament were explicitly explained, for example Jacob, Jesus' brother without fleshly ties, Judas and John, which is an interesting source for further studies.

Exploration and exchange of ideas of the ever-present oneness of God and man; the wholeness of the universe, including man – all inexhaustible topics for discussion.

Lingering under the Bodensee's fruit trees with a view of the lake and Swiss Alps, this heavenly oasis belongs to Christian Scientists. The Board and Management team lovingly care for, maintain and strive to improve this treasured home. We are grateful for the staff and sponsors for making this possible.

In October we began renovating the cottage, which should be completed by late spring. A barrier-free entrance is also in the works. Once that is completed the stairwell and passages will be painted and new carpet will be installed. There still remains a lot to be done but we are on top of it and we are eternally grateful for any support we receive.

The year is nearing its completion and the festive season has begun. This time of the year the lake primarily belongs to its residents and hence the Bodenseeheim. We invite you and your family to come and enjoy this magical time of the year with us.

A heartfelt thanks goes out to our members and sponsors for their contributions.

In conclusion we wish you a happy and blessed festive season.
